

Embryology

Because we never underestimate the importance of people to the success of any hatchery operation, we have developed a dedicated training centre to provide tailor-made training programmes for hatchery professionals.

Highlights

- Embryology
- Hatching egg analysis
- Factors affecting hatchability
- Incubator design
- Factors promoting chick quality
- Methods for scoring day-old chick quality
- Practical case-studies that bring together the information covered and show how it can be applied to your situation

This workshop has a very interactive component and delegates will be regularly involved in break-out sessions and in discussing how the subject covered can be applied to their own situation.

